

A close-up photograph of a young girl with brown hair and blue eyes, smiling broadly. Her hair and face are covered in white soap suds. She is waving her right hand towards the camera, with her fingers spread. The background is a soft, out-of-focus white, suggesting a bathroom setting.

'I have always found Smirthwaite to be caring. They care about the needs of my clients, they listen to what I need and they care about providing the child with the very best solution.'
